AN INTRODUCTION

Barbara I. Jones is a family law attorney by profession and a writer by passion. As a playwright, this US Air Force veteran has used the power of theatre to share the gospel and build community for over thirty years.

When not writing for the stage, her work often focuses on encouraging and edifying women. Barbara is the proud mother of three adult children. Two of whom are also attorneys and one who is a writer. It appears the apples don't fall far from the tree.

There are lives hanging in the balance, waiting for women to take up their mantles and walk in their authority!

BOOK SUMMARY

In A Woman's Gotta Do What a Woman's Gotta Do, Barbara delves into the lives of women from Scripture to demonstrate with indisputable truth that God never intended for His daughters to sit on the sidelines. It is God's plan that His daughters play an integral role in their Father's Kingdom.

The testimonies of the women from the Word of God highlighted in this book serve as a clarion call to their sisters today, boldly proclaiming that a woman's gotta:

- Walk in wisdom and courage
- Exercise her power to change the world
- Shed shame and heal from her past
- Realize her significance
- Recognize when she's dealing with a fool
- ... and so much more!
